TRAINING in DIFFERENT FORMS

HUMAN vs HORSE

Elastic Band:
An elastic band is a tool used to strengthen all kinds of muscles. This tool is most common for volleyball, basketball, and soccer players.

Treadmill:
This aid is used mainly by runners, joggers, and walkers. This allows you to run when you want and you can set your speed. There is also the fact that you have plenty of space.

Golf simulator:
This tool is used to help you learn how to swing a golf club. It is used to help you learn the proper form and to help you learn the proper technique.

Draw Reins:
Draw reins are a system of ropes and pulleys used to perfect form when cutting. This system is for form as when a leg is moved the hand is brought down.

Side Reins:
Many people use side reins. These are well known for helping improve a training aid and are encouraged to use slightly on the neck.

Belts:
Belts are used to help you learn the proper form and to help you learn the proper technique.
